New York, July 7 .- James R. Keene neads the list of winning owners at the Sheepshead meeting just closed, with a toal of $19,130 to his credit. Prince of Melbourne's victory in the Realization placed F. D. Beard a close second with $17,785. W. C. Whitney's stable won $12,730; Hastin & Larabie, $7,350; C. Littlefield, jr., $7,275.

When John E. Madden wants to purchase anything he does not let money stand in his way. Yesterday at the sale of yearlings from the Holmdel farm, the property of Gideon & Daly, Madden was present to purchase Hyland, a colt by His Highness-The Butterflies. The best of blood was represented in this colt, and he is the first colt ever offered that is sired by a Futurity winner and out of a Futurity winner. His Highness won the Futurity in his year, and The Butterflies won the Futurity in her year. Both of them were trained by John Hyland, and the Messrs. Gideon & Daly named the colt in his honor. Before the sale began Auctioneer Bain made the announcement that the owners reserved the right to bid on any of the horses offered, owing to the fact that it was a sale to dissolve the partnership. Madden began the bidding on Hyland at $1000. owing to the fact that it was a sale to dissolve the partnership. Madden be-gan the bidding on Hyland at $5,000. Then Glideon joined him, but he did not last long, and the colf went to Madden for $6,000. Madden a short time ago gave $20,000 for the colf by Hanover-Correction, at the sale of the McGra-thiana yearlings.

JEFFRIES TO MEET RUHLIN. Championship Battle to Be Arranged Within a Few Days.

New York, July 7.—A match between Jim Jeffries and Gus Ruhlin for the champtonship of the world will be ar-ranged in a few days. Both fighters and their managers have signified their willingness to clinch it, and will sign articles of agreement the early part of next week. At present both men are on the road, and as their engagements end next Saturday night, there is no doubt that they will get right down to business on their return to this city and lose no time in affixing their sig-and lose no time in amking their sig-natures to the articles.

As soon as Billy Brady, manager of Jeffries, learned in Parls—where he is at present—that Rublin had defeated Sharkey, he cabled to Charley McCall, nication.

If all arrangements for the fight are satisfactorily completed, and there is no doubt they will be, the contest will be one of the biggest betting affairs that has occurred since the great battle between Fitzsimmons and Jim Corbett a few years ago.

Ruhlin's great showing with Sharkey recently has gained him a host of anmirers, and, as this delegation will constitute the prominent bettors on fighters, there is every indication that the Akron man will be heavily backed when he enters the ring.

MUCH DOUBT ABOUT JEFFRIES. Champion Fighter Not Sure His Arm is Strong Enough For a Battle.

New York, July 7.-Champion Jin New York, July 7.—Champion Jim Jeffries is now at Burlington, Vt., and his arm is in such bad shape that it is a question whether he will be able to fight again before September 1. He has promised to deposit a forfeit with Al Smith to fight Ruhlin, but as yet has not put up his money. He will return to the city today, when he will place himself in the care of a physician, If he is matched to fight Gus Ruhlin he will go into training as soon as his arm gets in shape.

VERY TAME AFFAIR. Santry Given Decision Over Gardiner at Kansas City.

at Kansas City.

Kahsas City, Mo., July 7.—In convention hall, where the Democratic hosts have assembled for four days past, there was a marked change of scene last night. The thousands of handsomely gowned women had disappeared. On the platform, where but a few hours previously statesmen of national prominence had faced cheering thousands, the tables and chairs had given way to a squared ring, in which Oscar Gardiner and Eddle Santry, of Chicago, appeared for a 29 round go. About 3,600 admirers of the manly art gathered to witness the contest of the featherweights.

The so-called fight was a more or less genteel centest which terminated in a decision by George Siler in favor of Santry at the end of the stipulated 20 rounds. Both men came out of the fight as fresh as they entered it, and aside from a swing by Santry on Gardiner's sore left eye, which opened the old wound, and another swing on Gardiner's right eye, which started the blood a little, there was nothing in the fight approached hard joiling. Santry was always the aggressor, but most of his blows were blocked.

The Erns-McGovern Ring.

New York, July 7.-Those who attend Sharkey, he cabled to Charley McCall, his representative in this city, stating that he must clinch a match as quickly as possible with Ruhlin, as he was confident that Jeffries could beat Ruhlin, and thereby would get the chance to make several thousand dollars.

McCall is ready now to clinch the match after receiving Brady's communication. We fork, July 7.—Those who attend the Erne-McGovern contest in Madison Square garden July 16 will see the finest boxing amphitheater in the world. The toxing has already been arranged, boxes are being built around it and back of the boxes are reserved seats. With the lights out in other portions of the building and increased power on the jet over the ring every movement of the contestants can be distinguished easily from any part of the building. All the window panes will be removed from the four sides of the building, the portable roof will be pushed back and electric fans will be used in the building.

I expect to reach Cincinnati Saturday.

Brooklyn Boy's Admirers Think He

New York, July 7—Interest in the bat-tle between Frank Erne and Terry Mc-Govern increases at a surprising rate as the date of the fight—July 16—ap-proaches. Sporting men about town are proaches. Sporting men about town are freely discussing the outcome and opinions seem to be about equally divided.

Terry's admirers think he is invincible and will back him against Erne or any one else to the limit. The light weight champion has a betting contingent behind him, too, which promises to make things lively from now on when the money-laden McGovern men make their presence known.

Although the conditions of the fight in one way favor McGovern, and in the other way place him at a disadvantage, his followers cannot see how he can lose and accordingly are not a bit backward in claiming that he will give Erne his quietus, just as he has done to such prominent fighters as Dixon, Gardner, Forbes, White, Callahan, Rotchfort and others. They intend to bet their money on him to beat Erne.

New York, July 7.—Offers to bet at the rate of 10 to 3 on McKinley were made in Wall street today. One offer to bet $1,000 at this rate was reported. A few bets of small amounts were concluded. Among them was one of $100 bet on McKinley by Thomas Raborg to $30 on Bryan put up by W. G. Gallagher.

HE FOUGHT WITH FUNSTON. George Camblin Killed by Accidental Discharge of His Gun.

Horrible Manner.

Fort Scott, July 6.—The most pitiable sight seen for a long time here was Mrs. Hattle Emrick, a young woman who was brought to town to cause the arrest of her husband. Note Emrick, of near Garland. Her hody from her face to her feet was so badly bruised that the doctors who examined her condition, found her flesh livid and swollen beyond any semblance of her normal features.

Mrs. Ehnrick said her husband went home drunk last night. She was in bed, and, according to her story, he pounced upon her without any provocation and began beating her. She is not a strong woman, having a nursing child and had no strength with which to cope with him. He beat her with his fists, bit her and clubbed her, she says, and she could do nothing to stop him.

With a view of using them as witnesses County Attorney Sheppard and Dr. Roberts and Dr. Carver examined her. They found teeth marks, club and fist bruises all over her body. Her face was as black as a negro's and swollen until it was round and her eyes were almost closed.

ATCHISON'S NEW BRIDGE. Girard, July 7.—George Camblin and another man were hunting near Mc-Cune Friday when Camblin was killed by the accidental discharge of his gun. He was a member of company D, Twentieth Kansas, and only married a week ago Sunday. Overcome by the Heat. Independence. He was at work in a wheat field trying to save some of his shocks of wheat from the rain tsorm. His recovery is doubtful.

The contract for rebuilding the bridge has been let to the American Bridge company of New York, the biggest concern in the country, the head of the bridge trust. Carnegle of Pittsburg will get out the steel, and the work of putting it in shape for use will be done at Chicago. About sixty men will be employed in Atchison from October 1 to March 1, next, when the new bridge will be completed. The new structure will cost $120,000. The iron in the present bridge will be turned into scrap. The work is to be done without interfering with traffic. The new bridge will be more than twice as strong as the present bridge.
